Introduction

The COVID-19 pandemic has had a major impact throughout society, as well as in the national and international equestrian facilities. One of the main measures taken to reduce the development of COVID-19 has been to avoid social interactions, restricting the mobility of citizens, as well as suspending sporting events.

During these months, the situation fostered by COVID-19 has led to a halt to all equestrian activities; however, there was a need to return with all due precautions to this new normality.

Therefore, taking into account the health emergency, it was necessary to develop a strategy to address equestrian sports activities.

PRECAUTIONARY PRINCIPLE

The equestrian community should be cautious when it comes to health and safety; young riders generally have less severe symptoms of COVID-19 than adults athletes, but since they are not immune they can become seriously ill and also transmit the virus.

In view of the duty to precautionary and protection, each member of the equestrian community should take the necessary measures to avoid the risks of spreading COVID-19 disease, as well as the exposure to the virus and possible contamination.

On the other hand, the equestrian community should be aware there is always a risk, this is why reopening equestrian events will require accepting the "controlled risk" strategy.

BASIC PRINCIPLES OF PREVENTION MEASURES

The prevention and proliferation of the coronavirus (COVID - 19), is the responsibility of all citizens, being necessary to comply with the internal provisions established that are required in the Endurance Ecuador Sports Club, to become a safe place for COMPETITORS, COMPANION, FAMILY MEMBERS, EMPLOYEES, SUPPLIERS.

Mode of transmission: Transmission occurs by air, through drops that are originated when talking, coughing or sneezing by the sick person and that reach a person capable of infecting it.

Another means of transmission of the virus are hands or inanimate objects contaminated with secretions, followed by contact with the mucosa of the mouth, nose or eyes.

Incubation period: the incubation period can be from 2 to 14 days, which may vary depending on the case.

IV. THE FEI CODE OF CONDUCT FOR THE WELFARE OF THE HORSE

The Fédération Equestre Internationale (FEI) expects all those involved in international equestrian sport to adhere to the FEI's Code of Conduct and to acknowledge and accept that at all times the welfare of the horse must be paramount and must never be subordinated to competitive or commercial influences.

1. At all stages during the preparation and training of competition horses, welfare must take precedence over all other demands. This includes good horse management, training methods, farriery and tack, and transportation.
2. Horses and competitors must be fit, competent and in good health before they are allowed to compete. This encompasses medication use, surgical procedures that threaten welfare or safety, pregnancy in mares and the misuse of aids.
3. Events must not prejudice horse welfare. This involves paying careful attention to the competition areas, ground surfaces, weather conditions, stabling, site safety and fitness of the horse for onward travel after the event.
4. Every effort must be made to ensure that horses receive proper attention after they have competed and that they are treated humanely when their competition careers are over. This covers proper veterinary care, competition injuries, euthanasia and retirement.
5. The FEI urges all involved with the sport to attain the highest levels of education in their areas of expertise.
